A picture tells a thousand words

Look at the pictures below for five minutes or so.
Ask yourself, 'Where am I now? Which picture best describes where I am in our relationship?' Note, it is your interpretation of the picture that is important.
Each spouse share your answer with your partner.
Ask yourself, 'Where would I like to be? Which picture best describes where I want to be?'
Each spouse share your answer with your partner. Take care to avoid flippancy and you will discover some real depth in this exercise.